Governor Wilson Says He Welcomes Investigation.

THREE TIMES OUT OF FUNDS

Presidential Nominee Declares He Only Knows in a General Way Who Had Charge of His Campaign in the Various States—Asserts Princeton Graduates Furnished Most of the Contributions.

Seagirt, N. J., Aug. 28.—"I am absolutely in favor of publicity and welcome a thorough investigation of my campaign expenses; I have always held that position. I have always approved of it and will welcome it as a matter of course."

In this way Governor Woodrow Wilson outlined his attitude toward the Penrose resolution calling among other things for an inquiry into the preconvention campaigns of the various candidates.

The governor was asked who his principal backers were in the primary campaign.

"To tell the truth, I don't know myself, except in a general way who had charge of my campaign in the various states," replied the governor. "I merely kept a general oversight over my campaign fund. Three times we had no fund at all."

The governor said he could not even estimate his preconvention expenses. He said most of the money, however, was raised from Princeton graduates.

Spent Money for Publicity.

"Practically all the money was spent for publicity," said the governor, "for distributing news through the press. We did not ask papers to use it. We did not volunteer it. We sent it out wherever it was asked for."

The governor said that so far as he knew no campaign contributions were declined. With reference to the Thomas F. Ryan incident, which developed in connection with the Watterson-Harvey-Wilson episode, the governor was asked if he had not declined a contribution from Mr. Ryan.

"I personally did not," answered the governor, "but Mr. McCombs did. But I ought not to say that because it leaves the impression that Mr. Ryan offered money. He did not. I declined to see Mr. Ryan and Mr. McCombs declined to let anybody ask Mr. Ryan for a contribution."

The governor returned from Trenton, where he spent a busy day. All during the hours in which he was receiving callers an Italian sculptor worked away modeling a clay bust. A London newspaper man brought the sculptor, who has made busts of Taft and Roosevelt, informing the governor that the likeness was desired because of the governor's facial resemblance to Joseph Chamberlain, the English statesman.

WILL RESUME ON SEPT. 30

Senate Inquiry Into Campaign Fund Contributions.

Washington, Aug. 28.—Investigation of the Standard Oil company's correspondence, campaign contributions and political activities and of the pre-convention campaign of presidential candidates will be begun by the Clapp sub-committee probably Monday, Sept. 30, according to Chairman Clapp.

"The members of the committee had a general understanding before we parted that we would resume on that date," the Minnesota senator said. "However, I am trying to get in touch with them to map out our procedure. The resolution greatly widens our inquiry."

CLOSE FIGHT IN MICHIGAN

Race for Gubernatorial Nomination Is Interesting.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 28.—Amos Musselman of Grand Rapids and Secretary of State Fred C. Martindale are running neck and neck for the Republican nomination for governor of Michigan. Scattering returns from the statewide primaries indicate that the principal struggle is close.

The only fight for United States senator is on the Democratic ticket, and Alfred Lucking of Detroit holds a strong lead over George P. Hummer of Holland.

DARROW TRIAL ON OCT. 21

Lawyer Will Again Face Jury on Bribery Charge.

Los Angeles, Aug. 28.—Clarence S. Darrow, former chief counsel for the McNamara brothers, must go to trial again on Oct. 21 on an indictment charging him with jury bribery. Presiding Judge Willis of the superior court set the October date when Darrow was called into court on the indictment charging him with having bribed Robert Bain, the first juror sworn to try James B. McNamara.

The Bain indictment was returned at the same time as the indictment charging bribery of George N. Lockwood, on which Darrow was acquitted ten days ago.

Judge Willis announced that he would call upon Acting Governor Wallace to appoint an outside judge to preside at the trial.

FAIRBANKS WILL SPEAK FOR TAFT

Former Vice President to Take Part in Campaign.

WILSON MAY INVADE SOUTH

Democratic Nominee Is In Demand at Deep Waterway Convention in Little Rock Sept. 24, Where Colonel Roosevelt Will Speak on Sept. 25. Senator Dixon Reviews Work of the Progressive Party.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—David W. Mulvane, director of the Republican campaign in the West, announced that former Vice President Charles Warren Fairbanks of Indiana would take the stump for President Taft probably early in September, although no definite arrangements in this connection have been made.

Mr. Mulvane also announced that United States Senator William E. Borah of Idaho would take the stump for President Taft, at first in his own state and later probably in other states, although this has not been determined definitely. Senator Borah stopped in Chicago on his way from Washington to his home at Boise. He held an extended conference with Mr. Mulvane and others at the Republican headquarters.

Among other speakers announced by Chairman G. J. Diekema of the Republican speakers' bureau are former Representative James E. Watson of Indiana, Rev J. Wesley Hill of New York, former Representative J. Adam Bede of Minnesota and former United States Senator William E. Mason of Illinois.

Folk Calls on Davies.

Joseph E. Davies of Wisconsin, secretary of the Democratic national committee, met former Governor Joseph W. Folk of Missouri and W. K. Kavanaugh of St. Louis, president of the Lakes to the Gulf Deep Waterway association. Mr. Kavanaugh was endeavoring to procure the attendance for one day at least of Governor Wilson at the annual convention of the waterway association at Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 24 to 26. Colonel Roosevelt is scheduled to address the waterway delegates Sept. 25.

Secretary Davies said that four years ago $200,000 was procured for the Democratic campaign through popular subscription and this year's efforts will be made to raise more than $250,000 in this manner.

United States Senator Joseph M. Dixon of Montana, director of the Progressive campaign, issued a statement in which he reviewed the work of the Progressives in the Middle West and in the Mountain states and also on the Pacific coast. He said that this entire district had been effectively organized.

ROOSEVELT ELECTORS STAY

Kansas Republicans Refuse to Oust Them From Ballot.

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 28.—By a vote of 80 to 62 the Republican party council defeated a resolution to force the Roosevelt electors on an independent ticket.

The result of the vote means that the Roosevelt presidential electors chosen in the recent state primary will appear upon the Republican ballot in the fall election unless the supreme court of the United States, which is considering the case, rules against them.

The defeated resolution was introduced by Robert Stone of Topeka. It requested that the Roosevelt presidential electors get off the Republican ticket and get into the independent column. The Taft forces insisted that the Roosevelt men should leave the ticket, while the Roosevelt men were equally firm in their determination to hold the Roosevelt electors on.

GOVERNOR OUSTS ATTORNEY

Failure to Supply Data in Pardon Case Cause of Removal.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 28.—District Attorney Cameron was ordered removed from office by Governor Oswald West for failure to supply the executive with data asked in a pardon case.

The action follows Governor West's declaration that he would place a special prosecutor in the district attorney's office to aid him in his campaign to rid the city of evils reported by a vice commission.

Walter H. Evans, Republican candidate for district attorney, was appointed to the office. Attorney Cameron declared he would contest the ouster order.

Oil Steamer Burns.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Aug. 28.—The oil steamer Rosecrans, owned by the Associated Oil company, was destroyed by fire and sank in deep water off Alcatraz wharf. Her crew of forty-two men escaped by jumping into the sea and swimming ashore.

SENATOR TILLMAN.

Leads His Two Opponents in Race for Renomination.

SENATOR TILLMAN IS AHEAD

Jones Leads for Governor on South Carolina Democratic Ticket.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 28.—Incomplete returns from the Democratic primary in South Carolina show that Ira B. Jones, former chief justice of the state supreme court, is leading Cole L. Blease, incumbent, in the race for the gubernatorial nomination. Returns from about one-fifth of the 1,800 precincts gave Jones 1,600 more votes than Blease. J. T. Duncan, the third candidate, had polled a light vote.

United States Senator Benjamin R. Tillman is leading both his opponents, J. K. Talbert and N. B. Dial.

TERRIFIC STORM HITS NORTHWEST

Spooner, Wis., Said to Have Been Struck by Cyclone.

St. Paul, Aug. 28.—A rain and wind storm which hit St. Paul is believed to have been general throughout Minnesota and Wisconsin. Spooner, Wis., is reported to have been hit by a cyclone, but wires are down and details are lacking.

The storm apparently was felt at its greatest severity in Spooner, Wis., where, according to reports which were received from New Richmond, several buildings were demolished, the roof blown off the Omaha railway depot and much other damage done. All wire communication with the place or the vicinity was cut off and it has been impossible to learn details, or whether there was loss of life.

Telephonic and telegraphic communication to several cities and towns between St. Paul and Duluth was interrupted by the storm.

Communication by telephone to Eau Claire, Winona and to Grand Forks was also interrupted, as well as to several other points.

BLAST TRIAL VENIRE DRAWN

Hearing on Alleged Dynamite Conspiracy Set for Oct. 1.

Indianapolis, Aug. 28.—A venire of fifty persons, from among whom the jury to hear the dynamite cases will be selected, was drawn here. The trials of fifty-four labor union men indicted by the last federal grand jury here for complicity in the so called dynamite conspiracy, which culminated in the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times building, will be begun here before Federal Judge A. B. Anderson on Oct. 1, when all the veniremen will report. Federal officials have been engaged throughout the summer making arrangements for the trial.

RESCUE CAPTAIN AND CREW

Steamer Julia Larson Is Wrecked Near Thunder Bay.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 28.—Word was received here of the thrilling rescue by Thunder Bay Island lifesavers of the captain and five sailors composing the crew of the schooner Julia Larson. The schooner was wrecked on a ledge of rock in a storm and probably will be a total loss.

The boat was bound from Spanish River to Sarnia, Ont., with a cargo of lumber, which may be saved. She was seventy-two feet long and owned by M. Kindy of Niagara Falls, Ont.

"My name is not Smithers; it is Jones."

"Why, Smith told me you were getting married, and when I asked him who the lucky man was be said it was Dick Smithers!"

ARE FOND OF QUOTING WILSON

Both Republicans and Democrats Read His Works.

BORAH A STUDENT OF THEM.

Agrees With All but Four Lines of Speech of Acceptance—New Jersey Governor's Presents From Admiring Constituents—Champ Clark Gets Omen of Victory.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 28.—[Special.]—Quoting Governor Wilson became a favorite pastime in both houses of congress after he had been nominated for president. It may seem strange, but Republicans as well as Democrats availed themselves of the privilege. The Democrats gathered up and printed in the Record scores of recent speeches of Governor Wilson, while the Republicans seemed to take delight in going back into the past and quoting from the governor's early utterances and from his books. Senator Borah of Idaho showed himself quite a close student of Wilson's literary efforts and was frequently before the senate reading here and there an extract from his book of "Government" or something else. There has been a suspicion that Borah was trying to make it appear that the utterances of Wilson in his books were not in accord with the Democratic platform.

Williams Takes a Hand.

"The senator from Idaho," said John Sharp Williams on one occasion, "shows himself a close student of Governor Wilson's utterances."

"I seek information wherever I can find it," replied Borah.

"The senator seems to be disturbed over the governor's speech of acceptance," said Williams.

"On the contrary," said Borah, "I indorse and cordially approve everything in that speech with the exception of four lines in regard to the reduction of the tariff."

It must be that such progressive Republicans as Borah, who is not progressive enough to join Roosevelt, and such progressive Democrats as Governor Wilson are not far apart in these days of political revolution.

Will Not Stay.

When senators and members get sick and tired of the interminable talk of congress they cannot be made to stay in Washington, or if they do stay in Washington they will not stay in the halls where there is so much talk heard. During the rush hours, when everybody is so busy, it is found that quite a number of senators are detained from the senate on conferences over bills. For the most part it looks as if the larger share of the senators were simply dummy figures, supposed to stay in the senate and maintain a quorum while the few important men wind up the business in conferences.

Shakespeare Reappears.

That some time song, "When Mr. Shakespeare Comes to Town," was recalled recently when Senator Warren, replying to Senator Bacon, the latter without enough hair to wad a gun, said, "Shake not thy gory locks at me." It is the first time that "Mr. Shakespeare has come to town" in a good long while. Years ago "Old Bill" was on the job regularly, and no senator felt that he had quite rounded out a speech or made a suitable reply in repartee if he had not fired in some familiar quotation from the immortal bard. But these are progressive days, and Bill Shakespeare is somewhat behind the times. The farce comedy is now the drawing attraction.

"Handing 'Em In."

Probably Governor Wilson is getting all sorts of truck handed to him these days. Mr. Bryan had cartloads of junk sent him by admiring and sentimental Democrats. Although Speaker Clark is not the candidate, he gets his share of stuff that attracts the attention of his admirers. One of the latest acquisitions of the speaker's room is a part of a small tree with the root attached. By careful examination and stretching the imagination the head of a donkey can be discerned on the wood. "Ha," said the finder, "an omen of Democratic victory!" and straightway hies himself to the speaker's office and presents it to Champ.

Catron Can Talk.

For several months the talking for the new states has been done by Fall of New Mexico and Mark Smith and Ashurst of Arizona. Catron sat and listened and voted right, from the regular Republican point of view. But he showed the other day that he could talk. He roused up over the attempt to move the Geronimo Apaches back to New Mexico and told the senate some solid facts, which caused the bill to be sent back without approval.

Not the Day of Young Men.

They were discussing the possible veto of a bill by the president, and that frisky youngster from the Danville district of Illinois was saying a few words, as is his wont. "I voted against passing this bill over the veto," said Mr. Cannon. "I do not know what the president will do when this bill reaches him a second time. I know what I would do if I were president. It is not necessary, however, to state what I would do, because they are not now electing young men to the presidency."

Poor Consolation.

We like to know the weakness of eminent men. It consoles us for our own inferiority.—Madame de Lambert.

J. D. ROCKEFELLER, JR.

Explains Cause of Labor Trouble on Father's Estate.

OIL KING HIRES DETECTIVES

Son Says They Are Investigating Labor Trouble.

New York, Aug. 28.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in a prepared statement regarding the labor troubles on his father's large estate at Tarrytown, made it known that private detectives had been called to delve into the situation.

A detective spent the entire afternoon on Mr. Rockefeller's place conferring with Sheriff Doyle, who, with a large force of deputies, has been guarding Mr. Rockefeller's 1,000-acre estate for several weeks.

About 200 men are employed on the estate, nearly all foreigners.

In his statement Mr. Rockefeller declared that the trouble was due to jealousy among certain employes desiring to drive others off the estate and that it was not caused by the discharge of any employes.

MILL CONTRACTOR COMMITS SUICIDE

Was Summoned to Testify Regarding Dynamite "Plant."

Boston, Aug. 28.—Summoned to appear before the grand jury in connection with an alleged conspiracy on the part of a number of Boston men, who are officers of mills at Lawrence, to secrete dynamite in the latter city during the general strike last winter, Ernest W. Pitman, a prominent mill contractor, shot and killed himself at Andover. The suicide of Pitman was ascribed to worry over finances.

Investigation of the alleged conspiracy was begun by the Suffolk county grand jury. District Attorney Pelletier directed his assistants to go to Lawrence some time ago and ascertain if dynamite found there during the strike was purchased in Boston. At the time of the prosecution in Lawrence, John Breen, a politician of that city, was convicted of storing the explosive and fined $500.

When the dynamite was found secreted in several places in Lawrence, the leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, who were conducting the strike, declared they were not responsible. They charged that the dynamite was "planted" for the purpose of leading the public to believe that the unions were plotting to blow up the mills.

KAISER HAS SLIGHT RELAPSE

Temperature Rises as Result of Overexertion.

Cassel, Hesse-Nassau, Aug. 28.—Emperor William, who spent some hours out of bed and working, suffered a slight rise of temperature.

His majesty's physicians ascribed this change in his condition solely to overexertion and no other unfavorable consequences of his getting up were observed. The swellings of the neck and jaw muscles and glands are no worse. The general physical condition of the royal patient, however, is admittedly considerably disturbed.

MORE CHRISTIANS KILLED

Montenegrin Government Striving to Tranquilize People.

Cettinje, Montenegro, Aug. 28.—Further massacres of Christians by Turkish troops on the Albanian frontier continue to be reported, but the Montenegrin government is striving its utmost to give effect to the peaceful counsels of the representatives here of the European powers.

The minister of the interior left the capital for the border with the object of tranquilizing the populace on the Montenegrin side.

Serious Floods in England.

London, Aug. 28.—Rain which has been deluging the United Kingdom almost constantly since the beginning of the month ceased in most parts of the country and the outlook generally is fairer. The plight of Norwich, however, has become worse, the rapid rise of the Wensum having compelled hundreds of inhabitants to forsake their dwellings and to seek refuge in the higher parts of the city where they temporarily are being accommodated in the schools.

MAKES PUBLIC LIST OF NAMES

HITCHCOCK PERFECTS PLAN

New Law Won't Seriously Delay Important Mail.

Washington, Aug. 28.—Plans were perfected by Postmaster General Hitchcock whereby the administration of the new law prohibiting the delivery of mail on Sundays will have no serious effect upon the handling of important mail matter.

Holders of lock boxes at first and second class postoffices will have access to them as usual, although no mail deliveries will be made by carriers on the street or at postoffice windows. Mail for hotel guests and newspapers will be delivered to them through their lock boxes by a simple arrangement of having that mail sorted on the railway mail cars before it reaches its destination. Such mail will be regarded as "transit matter" and will be distributed immediately upon its arrival at the offices of destination, thus practically insuring a speedier delivery to the addresses than has heretofore been the case.

OPPOSE RECALL OF JUDGES

Lawyers Prepare Report to Lay Before Bar Association.

Milwaukee, Aug. 28.—Fifty-four lawyers, with at least one from each state, completed for presentation to the American Bar association a report denouncing as "dangerous to the country" all movements for the recall of judges or of judicial decisions.

Ten minutes was the time devoted by the association to the settlement of the question whether negro lawyers should be admitted to membership. A resolution presented by Mr. Dickinson was adopted providing that hereafter when a negro is nominated for membership his race must be indicated to the executive committee.

Shadow of the Holy Stone.

It is a singular fact that June 21 is the only day in the year that at sunrise a shadow is cast by the "holy stone" across the altar stone at Stonehenge, England. The event is always made the occasion of a pilgrimage at daybreak by members of the Universal Bond of the Sons of Men and many American tourists. Stonehenge is reported to have been a sun temple.

New York Police Official Tells Who Owns Resorts.

REFERS ONLY TO GAMBLING

Among the Persons Mentioned Are Many Prominent in Financial, Religious and Social Life, Including a Score of Women—Another List Containing Names of Owners of Disorderly Houses Is Being Prepared.

New York, Aug. 28.—Police Commissioner Waldo made public a list of places raided by the police as gambling resorts during the last year and the names of the owners of the property on which the resorts were conducted.

Among the names mentioned are those of many prominent in the financial, religious and social life of the city.

They include that of Sailors' Snug Harbor, a wealthy charitable institution on Staten Island; the estate of the Lorillard family of billionaire tobacco manufacturers, and J. Edgar Leaycraft and Edgar C. Leaycraft of the real estate firm of J. Edgar Leaycraft & Co., both prominent in Methodist church and missionary work.

The William Astor estate appears in Commissioner Waldo's list as the owner of two alleged gambling houses on West Forty-third street which were raided in August and September of last year.

The name of Congressman Jefferson N. Levy of New York is recorded as the owner of a gambling resort known as the New England Dramatic and Pleasure club, four times raided. Mr. Levy in a statement declared that as soon as he received notice of the character of his tenants he immediately began dispossess proceedings, but was unable to get rid of them.

Levy Disposed of Property.

"The matter became such an annoyance to me that in April last I sold the property for less than its value to Felix Isman, who immediately conveyed it to William C. Funk of Philadelphia," Mr. Levy said.

Others named are L. Napoleon Levy, who is a brother of Congressman Levy, the Clarence Pell estate, the United States Trust company, the Waldorf Realty company, a dozen other prominent real estate concerns and a score of women.

The commissioner turned the list over to the district attorney, who will use it as a basis of the proposed John Doe proceedings before Justice Goff next month by which it is expected to expose police corruption.

Another list containing the names of owners of disorderly houses raided during the same period, June 1, 1911, to Aug. 1, 1912, is being prepared by Commissioner Waldo for the same purpose.

Nearly 400 places are mentioned in the gambling list which, with the statistics as to the raids made upon them, covers 100 typewritten pages.

To Determine Responsibility.

The summoning of many of these owners as witnesses at the John Doe proceedings is understood to be part of the plan of the district attorney in order to determine the responsibility of the owners in allowing their property to be rented for gambling purposes, which is a misdemeanor.

A notable feature of the list is the comparatively few number of convictions which followed the arrests made at the raids, a very large majority of the prisoners having been discharged either by the court or the grand jury. In view of testimony brought out before the grand jury investigating the graft feature of the Rosenthal murder case that the police often weakened their evidence against gamblers who had "come across" after they had been raided it is expected that the district attorney will investigate the reason for the few convictions in the proceedings before Justice Goff.

The trial of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker on the charge of instigating the murder of Rosenthal will be begun on Sept. 11, if the plans of District Attorney Whitman do not go astray. He means to bring Becker to trial the first of the seven accused of the murder.

BODY FOUND IN THE RUINS

Actor Who Posed as Hero in Fire Burned to Death.

New York, Aug. 28.—An hour after a fire had burned out the upper floor of a narrow flat house a policeman going through the ruined rooms came upon the charred body of John Rich, tenant of the burned out apartment.

Rich was an actor and had spent a strenuous day posing as the hero of an apartment house fire. Reaching home late at night he slept so soundly that he was not awakened by the flames in his own rooms until it was too late.

Winona, Minn., Aug. 28.—A threshing machine boiler explosion on the farm of Guy Ford, three miles southwest of Witoka, in this county, resulted in the instant death of Edward Waldo, aged forty, an engineer, and the severe scalding of Lynn Higgins, a tank man.

Old Age Diet.

The Metchnikoff theory of old age, as is well known, attributes senile decay largely to poisons in the great intestine. From the latest report of Professor Metchnikoff and Dr. Eugene Wollmann it appears that these poisons are chiefly indol and the phenols and that sugar, which is much more readily absorbed by the great intestine, must have much effect in opposing their action. They propose feeding substances that certain microbes keep from turning to sugar until the great intestine is reached. They concluded that an ideal diet would include two meals a day, made up of 120 grams of meat, 500 or 600 grams of clotted milk acidulated by the lactic acid bacillus and a sufficiency of vegetables, fruits and farinaceous substances. Under test this diet is claimed to have kept the intestinal poisons at a minimum.

TIME FOR EVERYBODY SENT BY WIRELESS.

Government to Flash Out Signal Each Day at Noon.

The government is building at Arlington, Va., across the Potomac from Washington, a wireless telegraph station to communicate with its ships at sea.

The government will erect another wireless station in the Panama canal zone, another on the Pacific ocean, near San Francisco, and others at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii; Tutuila island, in the Samoas, and Guam and Luzon, Philippine Islands. Each of these stations will have a radius of 3,000 miles, and when they are equipped the government will be independent of the commercial telegraph and cable companies, which will be extremely important in time of war.

Each noon the correct standard time will be flashed from the station in Arlington, and it will be picked up and transmitted around the world by the other stations, and by this method every ship at sea equipped with wireless apparatus may receive the correct time daily.

At the national convention of jewelers in Kansas City recently there was shown a simple apparatus, costing $35, by which any person in this country might pick up without cost the time signals sent out from the government station each noon, and jewelers everywhere were urged to get one and thus be sure that they had standard time corrected daily.

FUND FOR HARLAN'S FAMILY.

Noted Lawyers Want $40,000 For Widow and Her Two Daughters.

A letter signed by Joseph H. Choate Elihu Root, Lewis Cass Ledyard, Francis L. Stetson, John L. Cadwalader and others of prominence, asking for contributions from attorneys for the widow and daughters of Justice John M. Harlan, is being circulated among lawyers who practice before the supreme court at Washington. It is proposed that each attorney give $500, with the view of making the total sum about $40,000.

The letter, in the form of an appeal reads:

"We are credibly informed that Mr. Justice Harlan, after his long, laborious and distinguished career of thirty years and more upon the bench, died leaving his family wholly unprovided for, the house in Washington, their home, being mortgaged up to its full value. Outside of that equity there is as we are told, less than $2,500, to which congress probably will add, as it did in the case of Mr. Brewer, a year's salary of $12,500, but that will yield only about $600 or $700.

"We do not think that the bar of the supreme court should allow such a state of things to continue or that the wife and two daughters of the late justice should be permitted to remain in this really destitute condition."

AN END TO THE INVESTIGATION

Motion That no Charges be Preferred Against Any City Official Carries This Morning

BY COUNCIL VOTE OF 5 TO 2

Attorney Russell's Remarks to the Council Were Resented by Alderman Fogelstrom

At the water and light board investigation this morning Attorneys W. W. Barron and C. A. Russell made impassioned speeches. Mr. Russell in a reply to a question of City Attorney Ryan, alluded to the council as a "gang" and Alderman Fogelstrom took umbrage at this remark and the rest of the council did not relish the statement.

The explosion appears to have been induced by the questioning of Mr. Ryan who was endeavoring to find out by what authority the investigation against the water and light board had been commenced.

Mr. Russell first refused to answer.

"Any lawyer is protected in any court from giving his reasons," said Mr. Russell.

President Rowley said he would like to hear the opinion of the council on the matter.

Mr. Barron suggested that a study of the city charter would enable the aldermen to find ample authority.

On a motion that Attorney Russell should answer the question, all the aldermen present, Aldermen Fogelstrom, Webb, Deckhaus, Henning, Olson, Anderson and Rowley voted yes.

Mr. Russell thereupon stated that he refused to answer because it was an improper question.

"Was it by power of attorney?" asked Mr. Ryan.

Mr. Russell stated they had an irrevocable power of attorney. He refused to produce it on Mr. Ryan's request.

In answer to Mr. Ryan's request to produce it, Mr. Russell said he could insist as much as he wanted to. "When we have a power of attorney, that is enough," said Mr. Russell." The question of an attorney's authority to begin an action is never asked in a court," said he.

"It is very evident that this matter may be dragged into the district court," said Alderman Webb. "I make a motion now that no charges be preferred against any city officials involved in this proceeding.

Alderman Fogelstrom seconded it. "I have listened to nothing but a continual calling down and being hauled over the fire," said Alderman Fogelstrom. "We don't have to sit here and take it all."

The vote was then taken. The five who voted for the motion were Aldermen Fogelstrom, Webb, Dieckhaus, Anderson and Rowley. The two against the motion were Aldermen Henning and Olson.

At the opening of the session President of the Council Rowley referred to the hearing and said the defense would now take up the presentation of its case. City Attorney Ryan conducted the examination.

The first witness called was A. Ousdahl, former mayor of the city, but he was not present. It was said he was on the Pacific coast.

Attorney Russell was called to the stand and Mr. Ryan asked him about the pamphlet which had been printed, published and circulated about town.

Mr. Barron objected to Mr. Ryan appearing for the defense. He wanted some other man appointed to advise the council.

Alderman Rowley, who is the president of the council and ex-officio judge of the court of inquiry, wanted to make a suggestion.

Mr. Russell objected to suggestions made by Mr. Rowley unless they appeared on the record.

Mr. Rowley: "The stenographer need not take it down unless advised by the council."

Alderman Henning, seconded by Alderman Anderson, moved that the stenographer take all remarks of the present and the council.

Alderman Rowley wanted to make a statement and then have the council rule on it.

A vote was taken and the four nays were Aldermen Fogelstrom, Webb, Dieckhaus and Rowley. The three ayes were Aldermen Henning, Olson and Anderson.

President Rowley remarked that at the start of this investigation osme understanding existed that all fine points of law were to be disregarded and that the investigation was to be conducted along the lines of common sense. The plaintiff's petitioners objected to the city attorney advising the council in the former proceeding. The council had to examine witnesses and unless he got authority from the district court to the contrary Mr. Ryan would remain. Mr. Rowley said he was ignorant about law. He was a builder and not a lawyer.

Alderman Dieckhaus mentioned that the proceedings were in the nature of an inquiry. It was not a trial.

Mr. Ryan stated that this investigation was to determine if charges were to be preferred. "If you don't want me to act for you, why I'll drop out. You can determine this without hearing any more. I am tired of hearing wind. You can pass on the matter right here," said Mr. Ryan to the council.

A motion to proceed with the investigation carried.

The various tilts between counsel were not relished by the stenographer Miss Hansyn, and she wanted to leave the room. She was prevailed upon to stay.

"In the pamphlet that you published," said Mr. Ryan addressing Mr. Russell, "why did you not put in the petition of certain petitioners asking that their names be withdrawn?"

Mr. Barron said the proper notice had not been served on them.

Mr. Russell said the petition was not on file when the pamphlet was gotten out.

Miss Hansyn, the stenographer protested that the verbal arguments made her so nervous she could not take down the testimony.

Mr. Ryan: "Did not some of the original petitioners ask you to have their names withdrawn?"

Mr. Russell: "Yes."

There were other objections made, especially by Mr. Barron who objected to Mr. Ryan being what he termed attorney for Mr. Dunn, for the city, for the board, etc. He also objected to Mr. Dieckhaus voting on a motion.

In the end the council itself objected to hearing any more of the matter and voted the incident closed as mentioned.

MODERN WOODMEN DAY SEPT. 5

65,000 Modern Woodmen and 30,000 Royal Neighbors Urged to Go to State Fair

September 5th is Modern Woodman Day at the state fair and a great mass meeting and convention is slated for the evening of Thursday the 5th at the Minneapolis court house.

Under the new M. W. rates $2,100,000 a year will go from Minnesota to the office of this foreign corporation at Rock Island, Ill., if present Minnesota members keep their present insurance. The death claim in Minnesota are $600,000 per year so it will make $2.50 for the reserve for every $1.00 for death claims.

No other order contributes one half so much for the reserve and Minnesota Woodmen to a unit favor a reduction and compromise so that the resources of the state, will not be so radically taxed and earnings of members in different towns will not be drawn on so extravagantly.

If the old members are given the new rates at the age at which they joined, instead of being taxed at their present age just like they were now coming in for the first time, then the amount to go in the reserve would be $1.50 for each $1.00 used for death claims, and this would be more than any other society however high its rates, is laying aside for a rainy day.

John L. Sundean, of Minneapolis, National leader of the Woodmen Insurgents, will give an elaborate address on the rate question and will present practical plans for getting the rates adjusted to suit the members at the open meeting in the Minneapolis court house on September 5th at 7:30 P. M. and members from all parts of the state are invited to attend whether delegates or not.

M. & I. ROAD IS ACCUSED

Charged by Government With Double Violation of the Service Law

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 28—At the suggestion of Attorney General Wickersham, a federal suit was filed here yesterday against the Minnesota & International railroad, charging double violation of the national hours of service law. It is charged that Engineer Bispham, on Jan. 18, 1912, was compelled to work 20½ hours. The second violation is in the fact that the railroad company failed to report the incident.

The company operates wholly within the boundaries of Minnesota and has its head offices at Bemidji, Minn., and the defense sets up the claim that it is therefore not subject to federal control. The interstate commerce commission requested the bringing of the action by the department of justice.

VAUDEVILLE WAS A SUCCESS

Entertainment Given as a Benefit For Crosby Episcopal Church Was Well Attended

MANY TOOK PART IN IT

Ten Numbers of the Program Followed by a Dance—Refreshments Served by Ladies

Crosby, Minn., August 28—Every seat in the Bijou theatre was taken Tuesday evening and ladies and gentlemen even crowded the aisles at the amateur vaudeville performance given as a benefit for the Episcopal church to be erected in the range town. So varied was the program and so well rendered the various numbers that it proved one of the most delightful entertainments ever given in Crosby.

The first number was a soprano solo by Mrs. P. A. Gough, of Deerwood. She was encored and sang again.

The "Reveries of a Bachelor" was a sketch presenting a dream of pretty women trooping from the halls of memory of a lonely bachelor. The curtain rose disclosing Cuyler Adams, of Deerwood, as the bachelor, nodding in the chair of his lonely bachelor's hall. There passes before him his first love, his old, colored mammy and this character was charmingly portrayed by Mrs. James T. Hale, of Deerwood. His first sweetheart was represented by Miss Barbara Buxton, of St. Paul. The country girl was Miss Elizabeth Stevenson, of Duluth. The school teacher was Mrs. Tom Watson, of Crosby Beach. The huntress was Mrs. Charles W. Andrews, of Duluth. The society girl was portrayed by Mrs. Culver Adams, of Deerwood. The winter girl, charming and rosy cheeked as though kissed by wintry winds, was Mrs. B. Magoffin, Jr., of Deerwood. The merry widow was Mrs. R. J. Sewall of Crosby. The chaperon was Mrs. John Stevenson, of Duluth.

Roland Manuel, of Owatonna, sang a tenor solo, "Mother Machree" and was heartily applauded.

The "Italian Street Singers" was an original sketch presented by Miss Caroline Hall, the niece of William C. White, of Milwaukee; Mr. Robert Adams and Mr. Paul M. Hale of Deerwood. All were in Italian costume. Miss Hall's vibrant voice was heard in an English and an Italian song. The young Vassar girl could hardly repress her smiles as she looked at her companions, Bob Adams industriously thrumming his guitar and Paul Hale grinding his hand organ and making the monkey collect the silver which rattled on the stage.

The quartet was composed of Roland Manuel first tenor, Salisbury Adams second tenor, Robert Adams first bass and Tom Watson second bass. The vicissitudes of Mary and her little lamb as detailed by the quartette evoked a round of applause and a shower of bouquets. It took more songs to satisfy the audience.

The Hungarian dance in brilliantly colored costume was portrayed by Miss Margaret Ames of Duluth.

Salisbury Adams, of Deerwood, gave two impersonations, the first, that of the minister using Mother Goose's story of the bare cupboard as his text, and the second, that of a French hunter detailing the account of the chase and capture of a gorilla in the African wilds.

Mrs. H. J. Ernster, of Deerwood, sang two soprano solos, "Ishtar" by Spross and the "Song of the Soul" from the Climax.

"Saskatchewan" was a sketch of the artist in Paris whose dream of Parisian beauty is interrupted by the vision of his first love, Saskatchewan, from the wind-swept, snowy fields of his Canadian home. Robert Adams was the hero of the sketch. Saskatchewan was Mrs. R. J. Sewall, of Crosby, a lovely vision in white, resembling "Our Lady of the Snows." The pretty ladies who circled about the artist until Miss Saskatchewan appeared were Mrs. Culver Adams, of Deerwood, gowned in rose colored satin; Miss Caroline Hall, of Milwaukee, in pale blue chiffon; Mrs. Charles W. Andrews, of Duluth, dressed in white; Mrs. Chester Tripp, of Chicago, gowned in white with a green polonaise.

The last number was the barcarole from "The Tales of Hoffman" sung by a double quartette composed of Mrs. P. A. Gough, Mrs. Tom Watson, Mrs. F. A. Edson, Mrs. Gormeley, Salisbury Adams, Robert Adams, Tom Watson and Roland Manuel.

Every number on the program was well rendered and it was a decided pleasure to witness such a finished production. Much credit is due to Mrs. Cuyler Adams, of Deerwood, whose guiding hand had much to do in shaping the entertainment. Dancing took place after the performance and refreshments were served.

Although the evening commenced with a heavy rainstorm, many autos braved the storm and the launches of the Ingalls Motor Boat company were crowded carrying back to Deerwood the many from Deerwood, Bay Lake and Brainerd who had attended the entertainment.

MELLIN'S FOOD

babies are perfect specimens

"Our little son is a typical Mellin's Food baby. When he was born he weighed eight and one-half pounds. We began using Mellin's Food when he was ten days old. Now at eight months he is a perfect specimen of a boy, exceptionally strong, weighing over twenty-five pounds. We are indeed pleased with the results and just wanted to tell you how well we are satisfied with your splendid food."—Mrs. R. L. McPherson, Hartshorne, Okla.

"We have been feeding Mellin's Food to our baby for about two months and are very well satisfied with the results. Baby had been troubled with his stomach ever since he was born until we started to use Mellin's Food. We had tried all kinds of baby foods and milks, but none seemed to agree with him."

DOG HERO GIVEN FUNERAL.

Animal Who Saved Lives From Fire Rests In White Casket.

Lying in a little white silver handled casket in a Columbus (O.) hotel and properly embalmed until recently was the body of Tige, the dog who saved several lives in a hotel fire three years ago. Tige's funeral was held only a few weeks ago. The corpse was carried to a cemetery in a real hearse.

Since the fire at which he played hero Tige had a bank account of his own. The dog also was given 10 cents for every rat he killed. Food for the dog was paid for out of his bank account.

At the fire which threatened his master's hotel and the lives of many people Tige ran down the corridors and scratched on the doors until the guests were awakened in time to escape.

Knew Herself.

He (on the phone)—Is that you darling?

She—Yes; who is that?

AMERICA BOASTS POSSIBLE ARMY OF TWENTY MILLIONS

Rapid Increase During Last Decade of Males of Militia Age.

Immense Engine of Defense Uncle Sam Could Hurl Against Foe.

IT is a comforting thought that Uncle Sam could put into the field an army of 20,000,000 men. Folks who know this should be able to sleep better of nights.

A preliminary statement giving for the United States, by divisions and states, the number of males comprising the natural militia of the country as shown by the returns of the thirteenth decennial census, taken as of April 15, 1910, has just been issued by Director Durand of the census.

In the total population of the United States, exclusive of noncontiguous territories or possessions, there were in 1910 20,473,684 males of militia age—that is, males from eighteen to forty-four years, inclusive. In 1900 the males of militia age numbered 16,182,702. The figures for 1910 exceed those for 1900 by 4,290,982. While the total population of the country has increased during the decade 21 per cent, males of militia age have in the same period increased 26.5 per cent, and as a consequence they constituted a somewhat greater proportion of the total population in 1910 than they did in 1900. Of the total population of both sexes and all ages in 1910 22.3 per cent were males of militia age, the corresponding percentage for 1900 being 21.3.

The fact that males of militia age increased more rapidly than the total population is accounted for in part by immigration, which has been during the last decade to a greater degree than in earlier years predominantly male. Among immigrants the proportion eighteen to forty-four years of age greatly exceeds the proportion in those ages among natives, and consequently the northern and western states, to which immigrants chiefly go, have, as compared with the southern states, a greater proportion of their population males of militia age. The eastern divisions, however, lose some portion of their adult male population by migration westward, and an effect of this westward migration appears in the higher percentages shown for the states of the Rocky mountain and Pacific coast regions.

Western Percentage Highest.

As compared with the general average noted above for the country as a whole of 22.3 per cent, males of militia age in 1910 formed 22.8 per cent of the total population in the four northern divisions taken together, 28 per cent in the two far western divisions and 19.9 per cent in the three southern divisions taken together. The percentages in the individual northern states are, with few exceptions, close to the average for the country as a whole. In the far western states they are generally considerably above and in the southern states generally below this average.

Among the states the percentage for Wyoming is highest, males of militia age in 1910 constituting 37.4 per cent of the population. Other states with high percentages are Nevada, 35.9; Montana, 32.8; Washington, 29.8; Arizona, 28.9; Oregon, 28.3; California, 28, all of these states being in the Rocky mountain and Pacific coast regions. The percentage for North Carolina, 17.8, is the lowest.

Of the 20,473,684 males of militia age in 1910, 2,156,361 were in the single state of New York. Of the increase for the decade, amounting to 4,290,982, nearly one-fourth, 1,074,424, was in the middle Atlantic division, comprising the states of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. The male population of militia age in New York state increased 516,966, in Pennsylvania 383,703, in California 286,645, in Illinois 239,084 and in Texas 205,759.

In each of the states except five males of militia age constituted a greater proportion of the total population in 1910 than they did in 1900. In four states (Maine, New Hampshire, Montana and Colorado) the proportion declined slightly, and in one (Kentucky) it remained unchanged. Nevada shows the greatest change in the percentage of males of militia age, from 27.4 to 35.9 per cent.

43 Per Cent Available.

Males of militia age constituted 43.5 per cent of the total male population of the country in 1910, the corresponding percentage for 1900 being 41.7. In five states the male population in 1910 was more than half of militia age—Wyoming, 59.6 per cent; Nevada, 55.9; Montana, 54.3; Washington, 51.8, and California, 50.3 per cent. In ten states, all of them southern, less than two-fifths (40 per cent) of the male population was of militia age, the lowest percentage, 35.7, being that for North Carolina, and in the remaining states the proportion ranged from 40 to 50 per cent.

The statistics are shown by states in the following table:

5,000,000 NEW VOTERS.

Women Voters This Year Will Number 1,667,000.

The Republican national committee will devote special attention to the voters who will cast their ballot for the first time this year for a president.

It is estimated that 5,000,000 new voters will appear. There will be 3,650,000 male voters enfranchised by age alone and 1,350,000 women and newly naturalized citizens.

For the first time in several states women will vote for president.

There will be 24,332,200 male voters. The number of women voters is estimated at 1,667,000, making a total of approximately 26,000,000 who may vote for president. In 1906 there were 22,617,500 voters, and the number of votes cast was 14,888,442.

The vote actually cast averages about 70 per cent of the potential vote.

Why He Refused a Fee.

I was born in Bonn, and a fellow student, an Englishman, was taken with sudden and serious illness. I propped him up, ran to the chemist at the corner and asked for a doctor.

There was a doctor—by a happy chance—lodging in the room above. He came and attended my friend, with much attention. After some hours, when the matter seemed over, I asked him what was the fee. He threw up his hands and protested in his best English: "I charge—nothing! I am on my holiday."—London Standard.

BONES OF TWO TOED HORSE.

Professor Hull of Yale Ends Successful Fossil Hunt.

Professor Richard L. Hull, chair of paleontology, Yale university, has just ended a successful fossil hunt in Briscoe county, Tex. Professor Hull reports finding the fossil remains of a two toed horse, something long sought and for which his trip to Texas was made.

Among his finds were the bones of a camel and ground sloth.

DOCTOR NEVER ASKED A FEE

Illinois Town to Mark Physician's Grave With Granite Shaft.

A granite shaft erected by popular subscription soon will mark the grave of Dr. Joseph Dawson, a physician who never asked a fee.

Dawson was buried in the little town cemetery of Wauconda, Ill., two years ago, but his grave always has been unmarked. Nobody knew just whence Dawson came. He arrived with one friend, a collie dog, and soon established a wide practice. Those who wished to pay for his services could do so, but he never insisted on a fee. What money he did not use for the actual necessaries of life he gave to charity. To the curious he said:

"I came here from California. There I have a wife and child. I like your town, and I'm going to stay here."

For ten years Dawson lived with his dog as a sole companion. When he died the tribute paid to him was:

"He had more friends than any man in the county."

Cockfighting Among the Greeks.

The sport of cockfighting seems to have originated with Themistocles of Greece. When he was leading an army against the Persians he noted two cocks in a desperate battle. To stimulate the courage of his soldiers he pointed out the bravery of birds, and, having won his battle with the Persians, he ordered that an annual cockfight should be held to celebrate his victory. In England the records show that the first cockfight took place in 1191.

Psychology Cure For Crime.

Psychological study of state convicts, aimed to cure mental deficiencies that led them into crime, will be attempted in the Indiana reformatory. A laboratory will be established in the reformatory, where tests of each prisoner's mentality may be made. Cures then will be attempted as befit the patient's needs.

NEW BATTLESHIP TO BE CALLED THE PENNSYLVANIA

Will Be Largest Vessel Yet Proposed by Any Nation.

Although the house of representatives voted for but one battleship, this will be a giant. The ship now authorized, which the secretary has decided to name the Pennsylvania, was designed by the naval constructors last spring. There will be few if any changes in the plans. Bids will be advertised for shortly, and they will be opened probably about Nov. 1.

The vessel will carry twelve fourteen-inch guns and exceptionally heavy armor, which will require a displacement of 31,000 tons. This will be the largest and most formidable vessel by far yet proposed by any power. The first ships to carry fourteen inch guns will be the Texas and the New York, which will have ten fourteen-inch guns.

The Oklahoma and Nevada, authorized last year, will have the same number and caliber of guns, but they will be arranged in four instead of five turrets—three guns in each of the forward and stern turrets and two in each of the other two.

On the Pennsylvania there will be but four turrets, each containing three fourteen-inch guns. The United States is the first nation to introduce three big guns in a single turret. The ship will have the most modern type of reciprocating engines, both oil and coal fuel burning, and will be required to make twenty-one knots.

KANSAS HORSES WEAR PANTS

Farmer Likes It and Horses Like It, So There You Are.

If you desire to witness one of the most novel sights to be seen anywhere in the United States you can enjoy that curiosity by a visit to the farm of John Heden, two miles south of Medora, Kan.

Following a custom of his own, Farmer Heden's horses all wear pants, or trousers, if that is a better term. These garments are not elaborate or expensive—merely the blue duck overalls such as Mr. Heden wears himself.

"Yes, the horses wear pants the year round," Mr. Heden told a party of automobilists passing his way a few days ago.

"People laugh at my horses wearing pants, but let them laugh; the horses like it," said Heden. "In the summer time they will raise an awful fuss if they have to go without their pants. It may look funny, but it keeps the flies from pestering them."

GOLDFISH KILL MOSQUITOES.

Illinois Central Will Stock Pools With Minnows.

Stagnant pools along the lines of the Illinois Central railroad are to be stocked with goldfish minnows. They will eat mosquito eggs.

The plan was originated by Dr. G. G. Dowdall, chief surgeon of the road. He explained that the goldfish minnow is the only form of fish life that is practicable for such a purpose.

"We selected the goldfish," said Dr. Dowdall, "because it is the only fish available that will live in stagnant water and at the same time do the work we want done. Our idea is the extermination of the mosquito along our lines.

The goldfish is very fond of mosquito larvae as a steady diet.

"We believe that by stocking all the pools along our lines with the hardy little fish we shall be able in a short time to do away entirely with malaria and other disease carrying mosquitoes."

Orator Who Nearly Lost His Pants.

In the September American Magazine appears the following about a delegate at the Baltmore convention who made a speech: "The crowd listened approvingly to a frenzied speech from a southwestern statesman who introduced an entirely new gesture. With his right hand outstretched he made wild clutches at his shoulder with his left hand thumb. It turned out that this was no mere affectation to emphasize his rhetoric, but that his 'galluses' were slipping. He remarked to a fellow delegate as he came down from the platform, 'I durn near lost my pants.'"

The Peanut Not a Nut.

[The department of agriculture has decided that the peanut is not a nut.—News Item.]

O luscious little peanut brown,
Far from the sunny south,
The most delicious morsel man
E'er placed within his mouth,
Companion of the circus days,
We feel most deeply cut,
For men of science now declare
That you are not a nut.

For years we've cracked your brittle shell
And munched your luscious meat,
Believing in our souls you were
The proper thing to eat.
For indigestion and all ills
You were commended, but
How can you beneficial be
Since you are not a nut?

O peanut, roasted on the walk
And sold to countless men,
We grieve! You never can be quite
The same to us again.
Life somehow seems a dreary thing,
Our door to joy is shut,
We're dazed, we cannot crack a smile,
Since you are not a nut.

Some time I hope to wake at morn
Out from a troubled sleep
And find the sun is shining bright
And find no clouds to weep,
I hope to see on walls of white
In lasting letters cut:
"Awake! Awake! Believe them not.
The peanut is a nut!"

Philadelphia Man Loses Life Seeking His Paper.

Lawrence Campbell of Philadelphia, sixty-five years old, awakened from his sleep early and prepared to go down to the front steps to get his Sunday paper. Passing quietly through the hall so as not to arouse the others, he stumbled on the stairs and fell headlong down two flights, breaking his neck. When taken to the hospital the physicians said he would not survive.
